THINGTHING SDK DEVELOPER LICENSE (binary version)

This Developer License ("Agreement") is a legal agreement between you (either an individual or a single entity) (the "Licensee") and ThingThing Ltd. ("ThingThing"), a UK company with offices at 7 Bell Yard, London, UK, WC2A 2JR with company registration number 09691012.

The present Developer License grants you the right to use the ThingThing keyboard SDK in binary version on a free, trial basis. For this reason, the available version is limited and does not contain all the existing features of the ThingThing keyboard. Should you be interested in using the technology with more features, you need to subscribe to a commercial license. For more information, please contact : https://www.fleksy.com/developers/ or the discussions of the fleksysdk Github repository.

By using the trial limited version of the ThingThing keyboard SDK (the "Software") you agree to be bound by the terms below. If you do not agree to these terms, do not install, copy, or use the Software.

0. Scope. This Agreement applies to the ThingThing keyboard SDK in binary version only, to the exclusion of all other code provided in the fleksysdk Github repository, or other software component.

1. Term. The Term of the Agreement is three (3) months. The Agreement is tacitly renewed for successive periods of three (3) months and unilaterally terminable on written notice by ThingThing for any or no reason.

2. License Grant. Licensee is granted a royalty free, non-exclusive, nontransferable, worldwide right to use and reproduce the Software to use, up to a limit of 100 users, and test the Software in a testing environment, and to use the associated documentation. The Software is not provided for any commercial use.

3. End-Users. End-Users means a physical person using the Software under the present Agreement. The Licensee is solely responsible for End-User behaviour. Any misappropriate behaviour from an End-User that constitutes a breach of these provisions while using the Software which the Licensee does not use all reasonable efforts to remedy shall constitute a breach of the Agreement by the Licensee.

4. Restriction on Use. Licensee and End-Users shall not :
   a) use the Software for any use other than for the purposes set forth herein;
   b) reproduce or distribute, in whole or in part, the Software, except as part of an experimental/test product of the Licensee on a limited basis (up to 100 users) strictly for the purpose of testing the SDK and not for any commercial or openly distributed use;
   c) modify, translate, reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble the Software, or otherwise attempt (i) to defeat, avoid, bypass, remove, deactivate or otherwise circumvent any software protection mechanisms in the Software or components thereof, including any such mechanism used to restrict or control the functionality of the Software, or (ii) to derive the source code or the underlying ideas, algorithms, structure or organization from the Software or any components thereof;
   d) alter, adapt, modify or translate the Software in any way for any purpose, including error correction;
   e) file any patent or other applications for intellectual property protection with respect to the Software, or any information contained in either of the foregoing.

5. Intellectual property rights. The Software is owned by Thingthing and is protected by intellectual property laws, including patent and copyright laws, and international treaty provisions. This license is not a sale. Thingthing reserves all rights not expressly granted in this Agreement.

6. Confidentiality. Confidential information means all information provided by ThingThing to the Licensee, or belonging to ThingThing and accessed by the Licensee, including the Software. The Licensee agrees not to disclose to third parties any Confidential Information. The Licensee agrees to ensure that all employees or advisers who will have access to, use of, or knowledge of the any Confidential Information are under statutory confidentiality obligations or have executed (in advance of and as a condition to such access, use or knowledge) a confidentiality agreement with the Licensee that is at least as protective of such information as the provisions of this Section. The Licensee agrees to use at least the same degree of care that it uses to protect its own confidential information of a similar nature, but no less than reasonable care.

7. Support and questions. Support for Developer Licensees is at ThingThing's discretion. You may address any question you have directly to the discussions forum: https://github.com/FleksySDK/fleksysdk/discussions .

8. Feedback. If Licensee provides Thingthing with any suggestions, ideas, feedback, improvements, reports, error identifications or other information related to the Software, or Licensee's use and evaluation thereof ("Feedback"), Licensee hereby assigns to Thingthing all right, title and interest in and to all Feedback, including all patent rights, copyrights, trade secrets, and other intellectual property or proprietary rights therein, and agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to assist Thingthing in perfecting such rights. Licensee hereby irrevocably assigns to Thingthing all such rights, title and interest and agrees to execute all documents necessary to implement and confirm the letter and intent of this Section.

9. Warranty disclaimer. The Software is provided "as is." To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law Thingthing makes no warranty regarding the Software (or any accompanying documentation), or the use or operation thereof, and specifically disclaims the implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement.. No such warranty or undertaking shall be implied by Licensee from any other published ThingThing description of or advertisement for the Software. The Software is not a consumer product.

10. Limitation of liability. To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, in no event will Thingthing be liable for any damages for loss of business profits, business interruption, loss of system availability, loss of computer run time, loss of business information, cost of cover or other special, incidental, consequential, or indirect damages, arising out of the use or inability to use the product (or any accompanying documentation) whether based on contract, tort (including negligence) or otherwise and even if the relevant party has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Licensee agrees that it shall have the sole responsibility for protecting its data and its product, by periodic backup or otherwise, used in connection with the product. This does not limit either party's liability for fraud or willful misconduct, death or personal injury.

11. Auditing and reporting. ThingThing may audit the Licensee's usage of the Software. Upon ThingThing's request, the Licensee agrees to provide all information reasonably necessary for ThingThing to determine the Licensee's use of the Software and the Licensee's compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

12. Applicable law and jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of England and Wales, United Kingdom, without reference to conflict of laws principles. All disputes arising out of or related to this Agreement will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the High Courts of England and Wales, and the Parties consent to the personal and exclusive jurisdiction of these courts.
